

Pastor Paul Goodridge hails from London, England. After moving to the United States in his late teens, he settled in New York City. His deep sense of calling to ministry led him to Oakwood University (College at the time), where he graduated with a degree in Ministerial Theology and a minor in Communications. He later graduated from the Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary with a Master's degree in Divinity.

Pastor Goodridge has served in the Northeastern, Southeastern, and South Central Conferences of Seventh-day Adventists. Currently, he serves as the Associate Pastor for Administration at the Oakwood University Church in Huntsville, AL, as well as the Public Affairs and Religious Liberty Director for the South Central Conference in Nashville, TN. He has always had a passion for youth ministry and has served on various committees and leadership levels. He is a PLA Master Guide. While pastoring, he also served as Pathfinder Director for the Zion Hill Trailblazer Pathfinder Club.

Pastor Goodridge's other passion is media ministries. He serves as an Executive Producer for the Oakwood University Church media team and collaborates with the Breath of Life Television Ministries. He and his wife, Dr. Ellengold Goodridge, have two young adult children: Isaiah and Katherine.

The goal that drives Pastor Goodridge's ministry is to create opportunities for young and older people alike to build and strengthen their relationships with Jesus Christ and with each other and to prepare everyone to meet Jesus when He returns through lifting up and emulating the character of Christ.
