

Stephanie Hairston-Sanders is a native of Winston-Salem, NC. She is married to Cameron M. Sanders, and they are the parents of five children; they have two grandchildren. Stephanie received her Master of Social Work in Trauma/Emergency Management from Southern Adventist University. She works for Oakwood University as the Director of the New Beginnings Program and an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Social Work. Stephanie founded Mindful Response, a Family Life Coaching Ministry devoted to cultivating and strengthening healthy family relationships through support groups, classes, events, and social media. Stephanie's passion is people. Her friends have described her as dependable, compassionate, motivational, and a mentor and counselor. But she describes herself as a "Willing Servant of God."