

Cassidy Miranda-Chavez is an experienced journalist with a history of serving the SDA community. In her home church in the Southern New England Conference, Cassidy served as Drama Ministry Director and produced an annual passion play, garnering help conference wide. During her time at Southern Adventist University, she produced the first live event for the School of Journalism and Communication.

Her husband, Hans, is currently pursuing his Master of Divinity at Andrews University. This opened the door for Cassidy to be able to fulfill the role of Communication Director at the Center for Youth Evangelism in Berrien Springs, MI.

Cassidy is serving as the Social Media Coordinator for the 2024 Believe the Promise International Pathfinder Camporee and is happy to have enthusiastic individuals join her team!
